Certification Information

Open badges indeed offer tangible proof of an individual's skills and achievements. They provide employers and peers with clear evidence of what learners have accomplished to earn their credentials. These digital badges can display specific accomplishments, competencies, and skills attained by the individual, making them a valuable asset for showcasing expertise and capabilities in various domains.

Upon completing a course linked to a PTN Events certification, learners qualify for a badge. They'll receive an email from info@ptnevents.com with badge claim instructions.

Learners can easily share their badges from LinkedIn, Twitter, and Facebook, as well as via email or by embedding them in a website or email signature.

Alliance partners members are eligible for discounts.
